HISTORY OF THE ATLANTIC PROVINCES LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

The first Maritime Library Association was founded April 17, 1918 at Acadia University. E. J. Lay, Librarian of the Amherst Public Library, was elected President of the Association which had sixteen members. Interest in the new association waned after Mr. Lay died a few months later. Irregular efforts were made during the 1920's to revitalize the Association.

In 1922 an attempt was made to organize an Association and once again Acadia University was the site of this effort. W. C. Milner, Archivist, Halifax Branch of the Public Archives of Canada, was elected President. Meetings were held at intervals over the next few years, but little was accomplished. An article written by Mary Ingraham (Chronicle, May 15, 1935) gives some insight into the activities of the 1922-28 period:

At one time, we had an enrolment of 57 members, and though many of these were eminent people, an honor to our organization, fewer than 1/3 of the number were librarians or actively engaged in library work. The librarians of the Maritime Provinces being in the minority, they naturally lost interest in an Association founded in their interest, but manned by people with other aims in view. Much good work was done, attention to local history was aroused through essay competitions; books were distributed, and a few community libraries founded. But as an Association for the coordinating of library interests throughout the Maritime Provinces, and for promoting intelligent cooperation and a spirit of mutual helpfulness among the librarians, the organization seemed doomed to failure.

After the 1928 annual meeting which was held, again at Acadia University, no more conferences were held, no dues were collected, and the Maritime Library Association lapsed into a state of dormancy once more.

In 1934, while attending the American Library Association conference in Montreal, a group of fifteen maritime librarians decided that it was time to try again at organizing an Association. Mrs. John Stanfield of Truro, Nova Scotia, was elected President and a constitution was written. Even though the original Maritime Library Association had not met in six years, and the founders of the new Association had been members of the original, there was some opposition from the President of the old body to the use of the original name and the extant funds. Thus, the new group decided to use the name Maritime Library Institute and proceeded to hold its first annual conference at Acadia University on May 30, 1935. At this time the constitution was adopted and the Association which was to become the Atlantic Provinces Library Association had its official birth. In 1940, the name was changed back to Maritime Library Association and the change to Atlantic Provinces Library Association was made in 1957 when Newfoundland became a member.

The present objectives of the Association are listed in this manual. When these objectives, along with the mission statement and the strategic goals of the Association, were last reviewed, in 1992, it was interesting to note that the product of this review did not differ greatly from the objectives and goals of the original Institute. Over the years, in an attempt to fulfill its mission, the Association has engaged in numerous activities. Annual conferences and Ordinary General Meetings continue to provide a forum for discussion and learning as well as the opportunity to conduct the business of the Association. APLA has taken an active role in promoting the establishment of libraries in the Atlantic Provinces, in encouraging the recruitment of professional librarians, and in supporting the establishment of a library school at Dalhousie University. Various briefs have been presented to royal commissions investigating library-related matters. As well, letters of concern have been addressed to those involved in decision-making which affects libraries and librarians.

APLA offers financial assistance through a number of grants and awards including the General Activities Fund, the First Timers Conference Grant, and the APLA Memorial Awards Fund. As well the Association acknowledges the accomplishments of students and individuals who have made an outstanding contribution to library service in the Atlantic Provinces, awarding the APLA Prize and the APLA Merit Award respectively.

The history of the Association is rich and varied. It is one of the oldest library associations in Canada, with only the Ontario Library Association being older. It has published a periodical since 1936 (The MLA Bulletin, 1936-1958; APLA Bulletin, 1958-). At the 26th conference (30 August 1965), held in St. John's, NF, the corporate identity of the Association was further enriched by the presentation, by Memorial University of Newfoundland, of a gavel bearing the coat-of-arms of each of the four Atlantic provinces. In keeping with the changing technology, the Association also maintains a listserv, the APLA-list, which is the oldest library association listserv in Canada (1993) and a Web site (<http://www.apla.ca>). The APLA Bulletin is now published in electronic format only.

Much is changing in the library world; however, now as in 1918, there is a need for a strong voice for libraries. The Atlantic Provinces Library Association attempts to provide this voice in the Atlantic Provinces. In 2018, the Association successfully celebrated its' 100th anniversary during the APLA annual conference held in Fredericton, NB – and continues to develop, in response to supporting the membership.

OBJECTIVES OF THE ASSOCIATION

The legal objectives of the Association are outlined in the "Memorandum of Association" as follows:

1. To promote library and information service throughout the Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland and Labrador;
2. To serve the interests of all who work in the region's libraries and to serve as a focal point for all those who are interested in library and information services in the Atlantic Provinces;
3. To cooperate with library associations and other organizations on matters of mutual concern.

MISSION STATEMENT AND STRATEGIC GOALS

The following mission statement and strategic goals were adopted at the 10 May 1992 OGM (item 3) in Halifax (NS). The goals are numbered for reference only, and the order does not indicate priority.

Mission Statement

The Atlantic Provinces Library Association represents, promotes, and supports the interests and concerns of the library community in the Atlantic Provinces.

Strategic Goal 1: Regional Voice Role

To structure and position APLA so that the Association can effectively serve its mandate as a regional voice.

Strategic Goal 2: Communication

To improve internal and external communications.

Strategic Goal 3: Value of Libraries

To promote the value and worth of the library and its workers.

Strategic Goal 4: Interest Groups

To improve the effectiveness of the interest groups.

Strategic Goal 5: Continuing Education

To develop an effective continuing education programme.

APLA EXECUTIVE

The Officers of the Association (Article 72) shall be:

1. The President;
2. The First Vice-President, who shall also be designated President-Elect;
3. The Treasurer residing in the Province of Nova Scotia;
4. A Vice-President from each of the Atlantic Provinces with principal responsibilities to assure the Association is fully aware of the needs and issues in librarianship in their respective provinces;
5. A Vice-President with principal responsibilities of recruitment and retention of members;
6. The immediate Past-President.

All of the above shall be elected normally by a ballot of the Association and, with the Secretary and Co-Editors of the APLA Bulletin, shall constitute the Executive of the Association. The Secretary and Co-Editors of the APLA Bulletin shall be non-voting members of the Executive (Executive meeting, 26 January 1992, item 13; Executive meeting, 31 January 1993, item 6.7). All officers must be members in good standing of the Association at the time they are nominated (Standing Order 5.04) and when they take office (Article 73 (1)).

The Secretary and the Editor of the APLA Bulletin must be members in good standing of the Association when they assume their respective positions (Executive meeting, 31 January 1993, item 6.7).

Duties and responsibilities:

1. To administer the affairs of the Association (Articles 81 and 82).
2. To fill all vacancies in office pro tem. Persons so appointed shall serve until the next Ordinary General Meeting of the Association (Article 82 (q)). [Note: This article does not appear in the registered copy of the Articles of Association. However, it was approved at a Special Meeting, 6 July 1988. Correspondence between the Association and the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies had indicated that it was not important that the file on hand show all changes. Rather, the Registrar was interested only in major changes such as a change in the purpose of the organization or a change in its name (Executive meeting, 5 June 1996, item 6.5)].
3. To review and approve the budget as prepared by the Finance Committee. Any expenditure in excess of the budgeted amount shall require the approval of a majority of the Executive (Standing Order 3.02 and Standing Order 5.01).
4. To keep the membership informed of the financial status of the Association, e.g. following Executive meetings (Standing Order 3.01).
5. To appoint a Committee on Nominations and Elections (Standing Order 5.04).

6. To act as the jury in the process of selecting the recipient of the APLA Merit Award (Executive meeting, 14 May 1976; Standing Order 9.08).
7. To examine the terms of reference of all committees, making sure that explicit terms of reference are made available to committee conveners and members (Standing Order 4.01).
8. To take positive and appropriate action whenever instances of censorship which violate the CFLA-FCAB "Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries" occur in the Atlantic Provinces (Standing Order 9.03).
9. To amend standing orders (Article 82 (n)). When the Executive makes, varies or repeals any standing order under Article 82(n) of the Articles of Association, such action shall be communicated to the membership as soon as possible after the action; and shall be presented at the next Ordinary General Meeting for confirmation or rejection (Standing Order 1.09).

Quorum

The Executive may meet to conduct business and may regulate their business as they see fit. They may determine the quorum necessary for these meetings, but until otherwise determined two directors shall constitute a quorum (Article 55). At the February 26, 1989 meeting the Executive determined that a majority shall constitute a quorum of the Executive (Standing Order 1.03).

A majority shall constitute a quorum of the Executive (Standing Order 1.03).

Order of Business

The following order of business (or appropriate sections) is regarded as usual or standard (Robert's, p. 20-21) for one-meeting sessions:

1. Call to order;
2. Reading and approval of minutes of previous meeting;
3. Reports of officers and standing (i.e. permanently established) committees (see also 5 below);
4. Reports of special, select, or ad hoc committees (i.e. committees appointed to exist only until they have completed a specific task) (see also 5 below);
5. Special orders (i.e. matters which have previously been assigned a type of special priority);
6. Unfinished business and general orders (i.e. matters previously introduced which have come over from the previous meeting);
7. New business (i.e. matters initiated in the present meeting);
8. Adjournment.

After the presentation of the report of an officer of a committee, one or more motions to carry out recommendations contained in the report may be introduced (Robert's, p. 22).

Presiding Officer:

1. The presiding officer at all Ordinary General Meetings shall normally be the President. If the President does not take the chair at an Ordinary General Meeting within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding such a meeting, the President-Elect, or failing him/her the Past-President, shall be entitled to take the chair. If neither the President nor the President-elect, nor the Past-President, shall be present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, the members present entitled to vote shall choose another Executive or officer as President (Article 31).
2. The presiding officer at all Executive Meetings shall normally be the President. If at any meeting of the Executive, the President is not present within five minutes after the time appointed for holding the meeting, a Vice-President shall preside. If neither the President nor a Vice-President is present, the directors present shall choose some one of their number to preside (Article 59).

3. Duties of the presiding officer of a meeting (Robert's, p.376-377) include:
 - a. Opening the meeting at the appointed time by taking the chair and calling the meeting to order, having ascertained that a quorum is present;
 - b. Announcing, in proper sequence, the business that comes before the meeting in accordance with the agenda or prescribed order of business;
 - c. Recognizing members who are entitled to the floor;
 - d. Stating and putting to vote all questions that legitimately come before the meeting as motions or that otherwise arise in the course of proceedings, and announcing the result of each vote; or, if a motion that is not in order is made, or ruling it out of order;
 - e. Protecting the meeting from obviously frivolous or dilatory motions by refusing to recognize them;
 - f. Enforcing the rules relating to debate and to order and decorum within the meeting;
 - g. Expediting business in every way compatible with the rights of members;
 - h. Deciding all questions of order, subject to appeal, unless, when in doubt, he/she prefers to submit such a question herself/himself to the meeting for decision;
 - i. Responding to inquiries of members relating to parliamentary procedure or factual information bearing on the business of the meeting;
 - j. Authenticating by her/his signature, when necessary, all acts, orders, and proceedings of the meeting;
 - k. Declaring the meeting adjourned when so voted or, where applicable, at the time prescribed in the program.
4. The presiding officer of a meeting should be well versed in parliamentary law and should be thoroughly familiar with the Articles of Association, "Memorandum of Association", "Standing Orders", and other rules of the Association, even if there is to be available the assistance of a parliamentarian (Robert's, p. 376).

Points of Information:

1. Resolutions at Ordinary General Meetings shall be submitted to the Resolutions Committee in either of the official languages; resolutions shall be presented to the Ordinary General Meeting in English. If asked for, a free translation of resolutions into French will be given orally from the floor by a French speaking member of the Committee (Standing Order 1.05).
2. At the Ordinary General Meeting of the Association, the membership shall elect one of their members, not an officer, to examine and report on the completeness and accuracy of the financial records of the Association. This report shall be made to the next Ordinary General Meeting before the financial statement is accepted (Article 97).

3. All meetings of the Association shall be conducted in accordance with the Articles of Association (Articles 17 through 38).
4. Special resolutions are those which are passed by three-quarters majority ("Companies Act", Section 87). A special resolution is required to change the Articles of Association ("Companies Act", Section 23) or the "Memorandum of Association" ("Companies Act", Section 19)

PARLIAMENTARIAN

(Robert's, p.387-389, p.507-508)

General:

The parliamentarian is a consultant who advises the President and other officers, committees, and members on matters of parliamentary procedure. Their role during a meeting is purely an advisory and consultative one, since parliamentary law gives to the chair alone the power to rule on questions of order or to answer parliamentary inquiries. The chair should not place the parliamentarian in the position of appearing to make a ruling.

Appointment of parliamentarian:

A parliamentarian shall be appointed by the President for all business meetings of the Association (Standing Order 1.02). They should be appointed as far as possible in advance of the meeting at which they are to serve, since their main work should be done outside the meeting.

Duties of the Parliamentarian:

1. The President, knowing in advance the business to come before the meeting, should confer with the parliamentarian before the meetings open, and during recesses, in order to anticipate any problems that may arise and to avoid, as much as possible, frequent consultation during the meetings.
2. During a meeting the work of the parliamentarian should be limited to giving advice to the chair and, when requested, to any other member. It is also the duty of the parliamentarian (as inconspicuously as possible) to call the attention of the chair to any error in the proceedings that may affect the substantive rights of any member or may otherwise do harm. Only on the most involved matter should the parliamentarian actually be called upon to speak, and the practice should be avoided if at all possible. The parliamentarian should be assigned a seat to the right of the President (Standing Order 1.02), so as to be convenient for consultation in a low voice, but the chair should try to avoid checking with the parliamentarian too frequently or too obviously. After the parliamentarian has expressed an opinion on a point, the chair has the duty to make the final ruling and, in doing so, has the right to follow the advice of the parliamentarian or to disregard it.
3. During a period of preparation for an annual conference and while the conference is in progress, the parliamentarian should serve as the principal advisor to the President, the officers and the committee conveners regarding management of the conference as it relates to the actual transaction of business. The conveners of the Resolutions Committee, the Nominations and Elections Committee, and the standing committees who are to present business to the conference should all consult with the parliamentarian during this time. And it may be advisable that they should attend certain meetings of these committees. The parliamentarian should always be present at the pre-conference Executive meeting.

GUIDELINES FOR COMMITTEES AND INTEREST GROUPS

Definitions:

1. Standing Committees are those committees established by the Association to deal with the continual and long-range needs of the Association. They are established by approval of a motion at an Ordinary General Meeting of the Association for which due notice has been given.
2. Executive Committees are those committees composed primarily of members of the Executive to carry out on-going work of the Executive of the Association, on behalf of the membership.
3. Special Committees are special task, short-term committees which may be established by the general membership or the APLA Executive by passage of an appropriate motion. This motion includes specific terms of reference which give, inter alia, a specific time frame for the completion of the assigned task.
4. Interest Groups are those members bound together by a common interest in a particular area of expertise. The purpose of the interest group is to provide a forum for information exchange within a limited area of interest and to make recommendations as appropriate to the Association on matters of wider interest relating to the area of expertise. Normally, the interest group will be composed of a convener and corresponding members from each province.

Establishment:

1. The Ordinary General Meeting of the Association may establish standing or special committees by passage of an appropriate motion. In the case of special committees, a time frame must be included in the motion (Article 61).
2. Terms of reference shall be set forth at the time of appointment for all standing and ad hoc committees (Standing Order 4.02).
3. The Executive may establish special or Executive committees by passage of an appropriate motion; a time frame must be included in the motion to establish a special committee (Article 61).
4. Any six members of the Association may establish an interest group by petitioning the Committee on Aims and Objectives (Standing Order 7.01).
5. The principle of representation from each province on committees and interest groups shall apply except where such division of the membership by distance will hinder the effectiveness of the committee or interest group. After three years the convenorship of each committee and interest group will normally rotate to another province (Standing Order 4.04).

Dissolution:

1. All special committees shall be discharged at the conclusion of the Ordinary General Meeting with the exception of those whose mandate was either established by the Executive or whose mandate is specially extended by the Ordinary General Meeting (Standing Order 4.09).
2. The Association may dissolve standing committees by passage of an appropriate motion at the Ordinary General Meeting. This motion can be at the recommendation of the Aims and Objectives Committee or from the membership (Standing Order 5.02).

3. The Executive may dissolve interest groups upon recommendation by the Aims and Objectives Committee (Standing Order 5.02).

Terms of reference:

Terms of reference are established when a committee or interest group is established. Committees or interest groups may suggest changes in the terms of reference. These should be submitted in writing to the convener of the Committee on Aims and Objectives, with accompanying reasons for proposed changes. Terms of reference should include the following:

1. The name and status of the committee (standing, Executive, special, or interest group).
2. The overall purpose of the committee/interest group.
3. Any specific directives defining goals and tasks.
4. The relationship to any other overlapping activities of the Association.

6. Any special constraints of methods of operation (e.g. committee meetings only by telephone call).
7. The reporting structure and mechanism, including time and method of reporting.

Membership:

1. The Aims and Objectives Committee appoints conveners to committees and interest groups when necessary and members to serve on those committees (Standing Order 5.02).
2. Membership to interest groups is open to interested members of the Association upon application to the convener of the interest group concerned.
3. The Aims and Objectives Committee is to ensure that committee and interest group conveners and members are members in good standing of the Association.
4. Appointments to committee and interest group convenerships are usually made in the spring to allow the committees and interest groups to begin their work at the annual conference.
5. The President is an ex-officio member of all committees (Standing Order 4.05).
6. Conveners of all committees have the power to co-opt (Standing Order 4.03).

Quorum:

The quorum in a committee is a majority of its membership unless the Articles of Association and Standing Orders have prescribed a different quorum (Robert's, p.415-416). In determining if a quorum is present, the President, as an ex-officio member of a committee, is not counted (Robert's, p.380).

Convener responsibility:

1. Initiating meetings or corresponding with members in order to carry out the committee/interest group mandate as expressed in its terms of reference, or in the resolution of the Ordinary General Meeting under which it was established.
2. Ensuring that their committees/interest groups meet at least once a year, at the annual conference of the Association. Such meetings shall be open to the general membership of the Association, unless a specific request for a closed meeting is sent to the first Vice-President at the time the meeting is planned.
3. Establishing, in consultation with other members of the committee or group, a programme and a realistic set of deadlines associated with the mandate of the committee/interest group.

The convener of the Nominations and Elections Committee shall report to the President at least one month prior to the Ordinary General Meeting (Standing Order 4.07). The body of each report should be organized in the following order, as applicable:
 - a. A description of the way in which the committee/ interest group undertook its charge (usually a summary of activities during the year);
 - b. Any facts uncovered, or information obtained;
 - c. The findings or conclusions derived from the facts or information;
 - d. Resolutions or recommendations, if necessary, to the Executive;

 - a. The terms of reference of the committee/interest group;
 - b. The necessary correspondence and documents for the operations of the committee/interest group;
 - c. The reports of the committee/interest group for at least three years.
7. Conveying to the incoming convener, within thirty days of the Ordinary General Meeting, all files and records of the committee or interest group (Standing Order 4.08).

Committee member responsibilities:

1. Committee members are responsible for:
 - a. Devoting their efforts towards fulfilling the terms of reference of the committee, under the guidelines established with the other members of the committee;
 - b. Responding promptly to requests or enquiries transmitted to them from the convener;
 - c. Making every effort to attend meetings of the committee, particularly those scheduled to take place during the Ordinary General Meeting of the Association;
 - d. Fulfilling tasks assigned to them with dispatch and with due care and attention.
2. Committee members are expected to contribute positively to the work of the committee or interest group. Members who fail to respond, without excuse or explanation, to two consecutive communications from the convener which require decisions or response may be relieved of their responsibilities.

Eligible expenditures:

The following guidelines were approved at the 31 May 1987 Executive meeting:

1. Unless otherwise specified, the budget of committees and interest groups is intended to defray the costs of communications within the bodies, e.g. telephone, photocopying, postage, gas. Aside from conference planning communication costs, expenses incurred in the course of workshops or other presentations at the annual conference are not included in the budget of the committees and interest groups.
2. A proposed budget for the coming year shall be submitted to the treasurer by the convener prior to 1 April.
3. The Vice-President/President-Elect will notify the new convener of the proposed budget after the annual conference.
4. Any necessary budget amendments should be submitted to the treasurer by 1 September.
5. Bills should be submitted, with receipts, to the treasurer at least three times each year: prior to the fall Executive meeting; prior to the winter Executive meeting; and not later than 15 March for year end.

Points of information:

1. All conveners of committees and interest groups shall receive notice, and the agenda for Executive meetings, and may attend those meetings as observers or to report on the activity of their committee/interest group in person. Minutes of the Executive meetings shall also be sent to conveners.
2. Committee/interest group conveners are expected to carry out their responsibilities expeditiously and conscientiously. CARIN ALMA E. SOMERS SCHOLARSHIP TRUST FUND COMMITTEE

(the following revision was accepted at the Executive meeting, 27 May 1999, item 9)

See also:

Guidelines for Committee and Interest Groups

Status: Executive Committee

Background of trust fund:

The trust fund was established, in 1995, as a bequest from the estate of Frank Somers, Carin Somers' husband. The terms specified that the net income from a $60,000 investment was to be paid annually to APLA "for the purpose of assisting a student in need of financial assistance in undertaking the academic requirements leading to the Degree of Master of Library Science."

Biography of Carin Alma E. Somers (From information in the APLA Bulletin, May/June 1990 and Sept/Oct 1996):

Carin Alma E. Somers was the Provincial Librarian for Nova Scotia from 1974 to 1987. Her working career as a librarian started in 1958 when she went to work at what was then the Halifax Memorial Library. She worked there both before and after going to library school at the University of Toronto. Carin became Chief Librarian of the Halifax County Regional Library in 1967 and oversaw the rapid growth of that region. In 1973, she was appointed Supervisor of Public Libraries (NS Provincial Library) and in 1974, Provincial Librarian.

Carin was always a tireless supporter of public service, libraries, and both CLA and APLA. During her time as Provincial Librarian, 100% of the population of Nova Scotia became served by public libraries. She was President of APLA, a second Vice-President of CLA, a guest lecturer at the Dalhousie School of Library and Information Services and a frequent speaker at trustees meetings. In 1988 APLA honoured Carin with its Merit Award. Carin died in 1990. The terms of her bequest are a demonstration of her interest in people and in the profession which she chose.

Terms of reference (Standing Order 5.06):

1. To solicit applications for the Carin Alma E. Somers Scholarship from Canadian citizens who are residents of the Atlantic Provinces and require financial assistance to undertake or complete the academic requirements leading to the professional library degree. Applicants shall have been accepted as candidates for the degree at the time of application.
2. To select the winner from among the applications received.
3. To announce the winner of the award at the Ordinary General Meeting of the Association.

Membership:

1. The convener shall be the Vice-President/President-Elect.
2. The provincial Vice-Presidents as members.

Points relating to the administration of the trust fund:

1. Originally TD Trust was designated as the Trust administrator. In 2003 TD Trust asked to be relieved of the administration of the trust. The Executive sought legal and financial advice. Upon the advice of Lawyer Carole Gillies and Certified General Account Christine Hanlon, APLA agreed to take over the administration of the trust from TD Trust.
2. The trust fund provides for an annual scholarship to be given in the name of Carin Alma E. Somers.
3. The successful applicant will have been accepted in an accredited school of graduate studies as a candidate for a degree in library science.
4. The award will include a one-year membership to APLA.

Points of interest:

1. The degree designation of Masters of Library Science (MLS) will be interpreted to include other equivalent designations used by accredited graduate library schools. For example, Masters of Library and Information Science (MLIS).
2. Residency in the Atlantic Provinces will be interpreted in a broad, but reasonable, manner by the committee. For example, an individual born in the Atlantic region, whose family home is in the region, but who has attended university in central Canada and has been accepted by a western library school, will be eligible.
3. The value of the annual scholarship was estimated at $3,000 based on earning levels in 1997. The actual earnings will vary. The committee has the discretion to award more than one scholarship in any given year depending on the funds available. For example, in the first year of operation, there was over $5,000 available and two scholarships, of equal value, were awarded.
4. The scholarship should be advertised through Canadian library schools, in the APLA Bulletin, on the APLA-LIST listserv, or other appropriate listservs.
5. The application form will be posted on the APLA web page.
6. Applications will be held secure by the chair for a period of one year and then destroyed.
7. In a year when no scholarship is awarded, the funds will be held in a designated Carin Alma E. Somers Scholarship account to be awarded as a scholarship in a future year.

Suggested dates:

Advertising	January 30 and February 28
Application deadline	March 31
Decision deadline	May 1

APPENDIX E: General Activities Fund (GAF)

(Approved at the Executive meeting, June 1985)

The General Activities Fund incorporates funds previously designated as the Vice-Presidents' Discretionary Fund, the Special Projects Fund, and the Committees' Special Projects/Programmes. The General Activities Fund is designed to provide a flexible and streamlined funding procedure for activities and projects which serve to further the aims and objectives of the Association outside those activities dealt with through the normal budgetary process. It is not intended to fund activities connected with the annual conference (Executive meeting, September 1986, item 12.4).

The fund is open to any Vice President, Committee or Interest Group convener, or member of APLA in good standing. Applications are to be made, in writing, to the Finance Committee. The requests received by 15 September of each year will be considered at the fall meeting of the Finance Committee, held in conjunction with the Executive meeting. The application should include the following information:

1. A description of the activity including, where applicable, the purpose, projected audience, and duration;
2. A budget proposal, indicating:
 - a. Whether the request is for seed money or in the form of a subsidy;
 - b. Whether other sources of revenue are to be used;
 - c. What expected revenues and expenditures are.

Also, to be included in the application are the name of the activity coordinator and agreement that a financial accounting of the activity will be submitted to the Finance Committee within 60 days of the conclusion of the event, and, where appropriate, that funds recovered from the activity will be returned to the Association at that time. When APLA co-sponsors events with other groups, all groups should jointly share in the profits or deficits in accordance with the amounts contributed by each (Executive meeting, September 1986, item 12.3). APLA is to be acknowledged as a sponsor of the activity in any publicity on the event.

Requests for funding will be evaluated by the Finance Committee, in consultation with the appropriate Vice President, based on:

1. Availability of funds;
2. Purpose of the activity (how clearly does it fulfill the aims and objectives of the Association);
3. Geographic location (if applicable);
4. Nature of the activity (does it duplicate an activity already scheduled for the area; is it a "fleeting opportunity"; does it appeal to a wider representation or a more specialized audience?);
5. Support available from other sources (if a co-sponsored event) and the proposed financial arrangements;

6. Publicity plan which describes:
 - a. The means of informing APLA members who may wish to attend;
 - b. That APLA sponsorship is to be noted in the publicity;
 - c. Arrangement for wider media coverage, as applicable.

A report will be given by the Finance Committee at the fall Executive meeting on all requests received to that date. After that date, remaining funds will be considered for distribution to later projects, with some funds being held in reserve for this purpose. A report on the approved projects and the status of the fund will be printed in the APLA Bulletin following the fall Executive meeting. The Finance Committee's decision can be appealed to the Executive.

Guidelines for speakers' expenses (approved at the Executive meeting, February 1988, item 6.7):

1. Transportation: A speaker will normally receive regular economy airfare with APLA doing the booking; ground transportation to and from the airport and other ground transportation as required.
2. Accommodation and Meals: A speaker will normally be paid for one night's accommodation at a hotel of APLA's choice and be reimbursed for meal costs as follows:

Breakfast	$ 8.00
Lunch	$10.00
Dinner	$24.00
3. The guidelines are subject to negotiation and payments should take into consideration individual circumstances and the overall financial position of the association. Speakers whose expenses are being paid from other sources should not be reimbursed again. An honorarium can also be considered in addition to, or in lieu of, expenses.

APPENDIX L: CFLA-FCAB Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries

Statement on Intellectual Freedom and Libraries

Approval History: ~ June 27, 1974 Amended November 17, 1983; November 18, 1985; and September 27, 2015

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations recognizes and values the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms as the guarantor of the fundamental freedoms in Canada of conscience and religion; of thought, belief, opinion, and expression; of peaceful assembly; and of association.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations supports and promotes the universal principles of intellectual freedom as defined in the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, which include the interlocking freedoms to hold opinions and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

In accordance with these principles, the Canadian Federation of Library Associations affirms that all persons in Canada have a fundamental right, subject only to the Constitution and the law, to have access to the full range of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, and to express their thoughts publicly. Only the courts may abridge free expression rights in Canada.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations affirms further that libraries have a core responsibility to support, defend and promote the universal principles of intellectual freedom and privacy.

The Canadian Federation of Library Associations holds that libraries are a key institution in Canada for rendering expressive content accessible and affordable to all. Libraries are essential gateways for all persons living in Canada to advance themselves through literacy, lifelong learning, social engagement, and cultural enrichment.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and facilitate access to constitutionally protected expressions of knowledge, imagination, ideas, and opinion, including those which some individuals and groups consider unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, in accordance with their mandates and professional values and standards, libraries provide, defend and promote equitable access to the widest possible variety of expressive content and resist calls for censorship and the adoption of systems that deny or restrict access to resources.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and foster free expression and the right to safe and welcoming places and conditions. To this end, libraries make available their public spaces and services to individuals and groups without discrimination.

Libraries have a core responsibility to safeguard and defend privacy in the individual's pursuit of expressive content. To this end, libraries protect the identities and activities of library users except when required by the courts to cede them.

Furthermore, in accordance with established library policies, procedures and due process, libraries resist efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.

Library employees, volunteers, and employers as well as library governing entities have a core responsibility to uphold the principles of intellectual freedom in the performance of their respective library roles.

APPENDIX N: Vice-President (Membership): Calendar and breakdown of duties

(As approved at the Executive meeting, 16 January 1994, item 6.5b)

To be revised in 2007/08

Ongoing Duties:

1. Answer inquiries about APLA membership and issue membership lists and labels as requested.
2. Maintain membership database. This includes updating the database as membership forms and renewals are received from the treasurer and performing a backup of the APLA directory after each change.
3. Send names of new members and members of interest groups, etc., to the Vice- President/President-Elect. The Vice-President/President-Elect will then forward these names to the respective Vice-President and interest group conveners. This may not be the most efficient method of distributing this correspondence, but it keeps the Vice- President/President-Elect apprised of interest in the organization and its committees.
4. Send occasional reminders of membership renewal of the "benefits" of APLA membership via the APLA listserv.

April/May (Annual Conference and before)

1. Staff membership desk. Ask Provincial Vice-Presidents to help. Ask local arrangements committee to arrange for a membership table and chair to be set up in the registration area. Also ask if local volunteers can be found to help staff the table.
2. Have on hand a supply of blank membership forms, brochures, postpaid envelopes and a book of temporary receipts. Also produce two (2) current printouts of memberships paid to date (April 30th or end of fiscal year). One printout should be kept at the membership table, the other should be made available to the registration table. Indicate on the membership form if payment accompanied a renewal form received at the conference. Issue a temporary receipt.
3. Prior to the conference, ask the conference registrar to be prepared to supply the names and addresses of those attendees who are not APLA members. After the conference send membership packages to those people with an invitation to join APLA.
4. Prepare the annual report for submission to the APLA Bulletin in time for the conference issue (May/June), showing membership figures by province, and by status of both personal and institutional members. Comparison should be made to the same figures at the previous year-end.
5. Add the name of the Merit Award winner to the APLA membership database (life member category; expiry year equals "0").
6. Archival items are to be sent to the Acadia University Archives. These include pre-conference membership printout, any membership correspondence deemed to be relevant, a copy of blank personal and institutional membership forms to provide a record of changes in format.

June/July

1. After the conference, send a renewal reminder notice to the APLA Bulletin editor for inclusion in the July/August issue.
2. Send updated membership and nonrenewal lists for each province to the respective provincial Vice-Presidents. Include personal and institutional membership forms.

August/September (before Fall Executive meeting)

1. Ask the secretary to set aside a time and place for a membership committee meeting before the Executive meeting - usually Saturday afternoon.
2. Prepare a written report indicating:
 - number of personal members by province
 - number of new members by province
 - number of institutional members by province
 - comparison with September figures of the previous year, and with the yearend figures of April
 - committee's activities, e.g. membership drives, changes in procedures.

October/November

1. Send updated membership and nonrenewal lists for each province to the respective provincial Vice-Presidents.

December/January

1. Ask the secretary to set aside a time and place for a membership committee meeting for the Winter Executive meeting - usually Saturday afternoon.
2. Prepare a written report indicating the committee's activities and changes in membership statistics since the Fall report.
3. Determine, with the membership committee, if any changes to the membership form are to be made.

February/March

1. Submit a budget to the treasurer. Include cost of postage, photocopying charges, labels, paper, etc. As well submit all outstanding bills and expense receipts, and advise the treasurer of any stationery needs, and supply the treasurer with two notes from the Vice-President (membership) to be sent to renewing and new members respectively, thanking them for their support and membership in APLA. This note will accompany receipts sent out by the treasurer.
2. Send updated and nonrenewal membership lists for each province to the respective Vice-President.

That the Committee on Aims and Objectives set up a structure for liaison with provincial library associations by the fall Executive meeting.

Procedure: August

Provincial Vice-Presidents send a covering letter from the President which will include a summary of issues from the annual conference, a form requesting information, a completed form with APLA information, and APLA membership form, and the APLA VIP list to Presidents of associations in their province. Forms to be returned to the Provincial Vice-President.

September

Provincial Vice-Presidents forward completed forms to the Communications and Public Relations Committee which compiles the information and forwards to the President. The Communications and Public Relations Committee should also send the information to directories and almanacs publishing information on library associations, the School of Library and Information Studies at Dalhousie, CLA, and the Partnership members.

A chart of the survey results, including conference dates, should be circulated to provincial Vice-Presidents, other Executive members and the APLA Bulletin for regular publication in an events column.

October

After the fall Executive meeting, the APLA President writes a summary of the Executive meeting minutes and forwards them to the provincial Vice-Presidents. The latter then write to each President highlighting activities relating to their province and enclose the summary of the Executive minutes.

February

After the winter Executive meeting, the APLA President writes a summary of the Executive meeting minutes and forwards them to the provincial Vice-Presidents. The latter then write to each President highlighting activities relating to their province and enclose the summary of the Executive minutes.

May

In conjunction with the conference planning team, the President will organize a forum for Presidents, or alternates, of all library associations in the Atlantic region at the APLA conference. The purpose of this forum will be to share concern, interests and opinions, and to develop joint strategies.
